Tesia-PCI Corporation Awarded EHNAC Accreditation

October 16, 2006 – Great River, NY: Tesia-PCI Corporation, a leading electronic healthcare information exchange company, has been awarded a two-year Healthcare Network Accreditation (Award #0035011006) from the Electronic Healthcare Network Accreditation Commission (“EHNAC”) for their overall technological, operational and administrative processes and services.

The award is given only to companies that surpass specific levels of excellence regarding electronic data transmissions, business processes, and guaranteed levels of services. The EHNAC Healthcare Network Accreditation encompasses both traditional and electronic based clearinghouse services.

EHNAC, a not-for-profit accreditation body, provides independent peer evaluations of organizations and their abilities to perform clearinghouse services at industry-established levels. The accreditation process is a stringent review of an organization’s technological, operational and administrative processes to ensure compliance and proper performance with healthcare transaction regulatory mandates (see EHNAC accreditation criteria <http://www.ehnac.org/Accreditation/criteria.pdf>). The evaluation is performed by a panel of industry leaders and experts in the field of healthcare traditional and electronic commerce. The accrediting process evaluates an applicant’s existing and future performance levels in accordance with industry-established guidelines and the (HIPAA) Health Insurance Portability and Accountability Act of 1996 (Public Law 104-91) guidelines.

“We are pleased to have participated in this rigorous and validating accreditation,” states Harvey Rock, Chairman/CEO of Tesia-PCI Corporation. “Tesia-PCI will continue to take all steps necessary to provide our clients with the highest levels of operating standards and performance”.
